Residents Review Draft of Noise Exposure Map Update Study

More than 50 stakeholders and residents from various jurisdictions surrounding Centennial Airport participated Wednesday, Nov. 2, in an informational public open house to learn more about the completed draft Centennial Airport Noise Exposure Map (NEM) Update produced by the Arapahoe County Public Airport Authority (ACPAA). As part of the process, all interested parties were invited to review the draft NEM, learn more about the results, and provide comments. Participants include property and business owners, Centennial Airport Community Noise Roundtable members, Centennial Airport staff and the HMMH consultant team, a prominent national airport noise compatibility consultant.

During the meeting, the public viewed presentation boards and provided comments about the draft NEM Update.

The NEM Update is an information gathering process that identified, inventoried and reported various airport operations and land uses. The process also determined aircraft noise exposure levels related to aircraft activity, and evaluated the aircraft noise and land use compatibility at Centennial Airport.

A 30-day public comment period took place Nov. 1 - 30, 2016 and has officially closed. The NEM Update, along with all public comments submitted, will be delivered to the Federal Aviation Administration (FAA) for final review and acceptance, by the end of the year.
